THURSDAY JULY 2 1863.

FRENCH PACKET.

FIFTEEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE

ARRIVAL of the SAINTONGE,

The French mail steamer Saintonge steamed into port yesterday morning at daybreak.

ENGLAND.

Parliament was engaged with the American question Lord John Russell explained the present state of affairs, which appeared more complicated every day. The prospect, however, of a war seems to have vanished, and the Ministers openly confessed that the number of English vessels engaged in running the blockade was enormous.

Meetings were held in every part of the kingdom in favour of Poland. Lord Palmerston, however, declares it to be the unalterable determination of the Government to pursue the strictest neutrality.

The affairs of Greece are still in a 'statu quo,' the conference in London not having yet been held

The arrival of Mr William Cornell for the purpose of proposing an Anglo-French intervention between the North and the South, had caused a great sensation

The Brazilian question was still unsettled, and the Brazilian Minister had informed the Foreign Minister that if the explanations required were not given, he should demand his passports. The Brazilian Government has withdrawn its deposits from the Bank of England

The Princess of Wales had a drawing-room, at which over 2000 persons assisted

FRANCE

The capture of Puebla, in Mexico, had caused a great sensation throughout the empire

The elections which were to come off on the 31st of May for Deputies, caused a deal of excitement. M Thiers had accepted the Second District of the Seine

A sort of meeting was convened in Paris, for the purpose of making postage arrangements. The only representative from South America was our friend, Dr Hector, who as he was supported by his consular character, which the French Government refuse to acknowledge, his attendance was therefore disputed with.

On the 21st instant a regiment of artillery was to embark on board the Duguesne, for Mexico. General Oudinot D Reubal leaves to succeed General Vorsilet de Lmmiere, who was killed in the attack on Puebla

SPAIN.

Marshall O'Donnell the Duke of Tetuan has died with an accident by a fall from his horse

A royal decree has been passed governing the creation of a new ministry after the Cabinet.

The sentence of imprisonment against the Grenada Protestants has been confirmed in to the same number of years imbridonment.

The European deputation is at Madrid.

ITALY.

General Tristany has issued an address to the Neapolitans, in favor of Francis II. of whom he holds the rank of colonel. A rebellion of Bourbonists is about to invade Calabria from the Albanian coast. General La Mamora is dead, Petitti's hungry abuses the Ins is excellent, health and spirits, hasy returned to Rome from a triumphal procession through the States of the Church. He was everywhere received with the most unbounded delight. Rome illuminated to welcome his return to the Vatican. The trial of Bonelli's minister secretary continues. Baron Ricasoli visited Victor Emanuel and returned to Tuscany.

THE POLISH INSURRECTION.

GLORIOUS TIDINGS.

The insurrection gains ground and spreads sreangely. The National Government has issued a proclamation announcing that the 15th of May would pass without a single Pole availing himself of the Czar's amnesty, or laying down arms. The insurgents have their official journal, and the orders of the Provisional Executive are faithfully performed in every part of the kingdom. The patriot-generals are almost always successful; the Russians, being unable to cope with them in the open field, confine themselves to the fortified towns. Cracowski rules supreme in the palatinate of Sandomir Czarnecki has gained a signal victory in Podlachia over the Cossacks. Jezzranecki, in the district of Lublin, was surrounded by superior forces, but effected a good retreat to Waligoiski. The patriots of Marovia were steadily extending their operations closer to Warsaw. Peasants have come all into the army, rejecting the Russian offer, and obeying the dictates of the clergy, who have entered heart and soul into the national cause.

Three victories, however, are attended with some losses. Nobutt, the valiant hero of Ilanowo, in which victory he has fallen gloriously on the battle-field Colonel Nullo, a friend of Garibaldi, was wounded in the fight of Alkurg, and became prisoner. He had fought during an hour with great valour, and died of his wounds;

In the East and South-east the revolt triumphs. In Lithuania numerous well armed bands are undispated masters. Narbutt has been succeeded by Wilbigski, who has just gained a splendid victory near Wirna. The Abbe Mackiewicz led his soldiers to another triumph at Rogow, where he was wounded. The priests seldom have made his curry into Orikut amid the joyful acclamation of the people.

The revolution shows itself on the frontiers of Lithuania, having broken out in two districts on the night of May 8th This country, bordering on the Dnieper principalities, was annexed to Poland in 1774, when Russia annexed it. In the chief towns, Kiew, Pultawa, and Cherson, clubs have been established, and the Russians of the last but 1 of 1000 students, well equipped left the last city and encamped in a position commanding the outskirts. Numerous explanations have been issued by the people, calling for a Duchy (Hetmanat) in conjunction with the Kingdom of Poland. The provisional government has been proclaimed Assembly of the Ukraine people,' with a red, the Polish eagle.

Rome is greatly alarmed, and finds her armies insufficient to secure the government; all officers on leave have been recommended to retire to join, and the Grand Duke Constantine hurried the troops, declaring no European Intervention to be necessary. Prussia and France have backed out of intervention, and Austria refuses to give up Galitzia for the restoration of anarchy in Poland. But Rome receive every day valuable contingents of French officers and soldiers, who being on leave, quietly start for the scene of war, and organise regiments on a French plan.

TROUBLES IN PRUSSIA.

King William is still in hot water, with his Chambers, Ministry, and People, and a ministerial crisis, or rebellion, will probably be the issue. M. de Bonin, minister of War, charged the Deputies with using an insolent expression in the debate on military supplies; the President of the Chamber called the latter to order. Hereupon a lively discussion ensued, which ended in the President putting on his hat and suspending the session for an hour. On resuming business the Minister did not attend, and the Cabinet notified the Chamber they would not assist next day. The King is now forced either to close the Parliament or dismiss his Ministers.

The Slesswick-Holstein question is not settled, but Prussia has calmed down in her former propositions. The German Diet seems to agree with King William, and a term is fixed for Denmark to repeal some acts considered encroachments on these Dano-Germanic duchies: this is at the suggestion of Austria. A law was passed by the Chambers on the changes, declaring from the Holstein treasury a proportionate sum for the expences of the monarchy.

Russian troops are being poured into Poland, and militias called out in all parts of the empire. All the officers serving in Poland have been ordered to send their families into Russia. Turkey has protested in favour of the rebels. The people of Finland have presented to the King a declaration of loyalty to the Czar

THE GREEK THRONE.

Prince Christian hesitates to accept the throne of Otho for his son. The Greek deputation gave him a few days to decide, and he wrote to London. At Athens the Ministry suffered daily changes; the latest Premier was Bonfios a native soldier, caused great disorders at a theatre, but were not punished. A conflict took place at Nauplia between the garrison and gendarmes. The National Assembly passed votes of thanks to the several Protecting Powers for their services towards Greece

LATEST FROM THE EAST.

Turkey is again agitated with popular anti christian commotions. The mussulman women at Trebigne attacked the prisons in order to liberate some who had pulled down the Greek schools. The troops were called out and dispersed the rioters.

The Greek language is strictly forbidden in the Danubian principalities, and Prince Couza, the hospodar, ascends severities against the Greek convents.

Omar Pacha has been named Grand Vizier, and Ouser Pacha, Serasker. The Sultan gained much popularity both among the Mussulman and Christian inhabitants during his late visit to Egypt. Prince and princess Napoleon arrived at Alexandria, where they were received with great enthusiasm.

News from Japan reports a terrible agitation in Yeddo, against foreigners. The authorities were burying arms and stores, which involved the destruction of the American Legation. Admiral Count Bruce quartered the English troops at Teko. Admiral Cooper is about to occupy the Linschoten islands, in union with the French. Dates from Ca cutta are up to April 3rd. from Hong-Kong April 5. General Arguilolo was named Governor of Manilla. Great Chinese corps. Pekin is tranquil. The insurgents have been expelled from Sien-tsin, and Foshan is re-inforced.

The barbarities and tyranny of Bourbon rule in Naples, under the plea of suppressing brigandage, worse than the exasperated cruelties of the Bourbons, are causing a wide spread revulsion.

DESTRUCTION OF AN AMERICAN VESSEL.

Per 'Saintonge' we regret to learn that the American barque Anadona Captain Loveland from New York, bound for Buenos Ayres consigned to Zimmermann, Hayes and Co, with 40, 000 gallons of petroleum, pine &c., was captured on the 2nd inst. by a Southern Privateer. We believe the Alabama, Florida, 16 S, and 290 Rover. She was burnt to the waters edge, 4 of her passengers were put on board the Hanoverian brig Widar, and landed this port, from them we learn that the Saintonge and arrived here yesterday morning.

We are happy to learn that both vessel and cargo were fully covered by Insurance.

GOLD IN NEW ZEALAND.

The Chilian papers, May 26th, report great discoveries of gold in New Zealand. Nuggets of 16 ounces are common, and some Englishmen were returning home by the Pacific, with a goodly supply.

CHANGE THE MINISTERS.

The 'Artesano,' an interesting little paper published in this city, demanded of General Mitre, as President of the Republic, to put down the unhappy revolutions which surround us, and ameliorate if possible the currency of the country.

Pleasing indeed is it to us to hear the voice of industry second our appeal. The present state of the country could not be worse; murder and famine in the interior, devastation and ruin in the Banda Oriental, bankruptcy and almost a monetary crisis in our city. It is high time to call upon the ruler of the country to act. So thinks the 'Artesano,' the organ of mechanical industry so says the 'Standard,' the organ of foreign enterprize both in town and country.

Difficult as it may be to form a harmonious ministry in a country torn by such discordant elements, it is the opinion of every one except ourselves, that all classes that if the President were to dismiss all his ministers, and either appoint others or come alone, we would hail with joy the troubles which at present surround us.

It may seem hazardous on our part to make a sweeping suggestion to dismiss all the National ministers, but we judge these men by their acts, not their professions; and as public servants they have been very far from being honest and found wanting. From the very best of authority we know that, were it not for the decisive activity of the Minister of War, we should now be waging war with the Banda Oriental.

From an equally good source, we learn that had the President's voice been heard, the Church would not now be living on his estancia, eating his cattle, instead of ruling in Cordoba.

Positive information have we also that General Mitre's opinions are not respected. we would now have the currency at a fixed value, and the works of one of the greatest financial economists of the age, Mr. Chascomus Rail way, non begun.

Shall we, therefore, pray hypocrite to our readers, or let any and every theme upon the people themselves, when the guilt lies elsewhere? No, we fearlessly charge the responsibility upon the President, with forcing their peculiar political views on the public councils, to the direct prejudice of the best interests of the country. The minister of the Interior, with his celebrated sub secretary, what can be expected of him? The Foreign Minister, a South American gentleman, who, we must say, he can even speak a foreign language, knows as much about the art of ruling to be adopted for the welfare and progress of this country as he does of Vattel, Puffendorf, or Grotius.

The Finance Minister, who, pacing up and down his study, dreams of schemes as impracticable as they are ridiculous to sustain his exploding financial reputation.

The Minister of War, a good commander-in-chief, but unhappily endowed with peculiar oriental proclivities.

Where are we, may we ask, with the destinies of the country confided to such men? Is it to be wondered at that Flores started from this port, that Buenos Ayres declared itself free, that the last multitary of a country, public confidence, gives way. Rather is it to be wondered at that we, who are not now dragged from the impotence which our natural and commercial position affords us, and cast up to the level of the waves of anarchy and revolution inexperience and ministerial nonfoolery

CAPTURE OF PUEBLA.

The French packet Bearn bring particulars of the recent French victory. General Forey admits having disobeyed orders; instead of attacking on the 16th April (Prince Imperial's birthday), he waited a few days, and having seized all the outer works, made his triumphal entry into the city, where a terrific combat ensued. The Mexican garrison was numerous and strongly defended by barricades and 1 and artillery; every street, every house was very inch of ground, was fiercely disputed. Meantime a general onslaught was made on the French hospitals, which were robbed, murdered, or ill treated in true Mexican fashion

But nothing could resist the impetuous charge of the avenging Eurapeans, who swept down every obstacle, stormed the forts, and decimated the Mexican marines. The infernal orgies were drawing to a close, the Mexicans saw their last stronghold fallen. and desperation supplied the place of valour the hordes of their conquerors swarmed the lanes and citadel, 300 perished in a mine which exploded, and not until 1,000 valiant Frenchmen bit the dust did the invincible tricolor float above Puebla. Several banners have been sent as trophies to the Hotel Invalides of Paris; the city of Bueno Ayres, we, however, who enough not to risk a waste of money by sending the promised flag to Puebla. We regret to find an Italian, General Ortega, in the ranks of Soarez' defenders. The French by throwing a detachment on the road to Mexico prevented Ortega's retreat on the city. The next news we will be the triumphal entry of Ge eral Forey into the capital.

THE CHILIAN MAIL.

SIEGE OF PUEBLA.

We have the Ferro Carril of Santiago to May 30th. A contract has been arranged between Messrs. Bright, Perry, and Webb and the Chilian Government for running telegraph wires across the Andes, through Bolivia, La Plata, and Banda Oriental, to connect with the British and all European trans-Atlantic cable at three Governments have made similar contracts with this firm, which gets a subvention of $15,000 per month from Chili. There are two or three foreign vessels sachored at Valparaiso

Some Chilians happened to be dining upon Chevaux de frise, and the Chilian Chevaux de frise, and the poor devils are hunted over to be shot by the Argentine civilisers The Chilians were justly enough mad at the fraud of asylum to rebels at rue Ligne, reminding Government that President Mitre was once of this category in Chili.

The frauds on the Valparaiso Rail way bring fresh discoveries and arrests with much general excitement. The Chilian mail has arrived from the Falklands, but Admiral Pinaco is on a visit at Santiago.

A valuable guano mine has been discovered at Patrol, with bars weighing 12lb. The Esmeralda frigate is reported ly injured

Later accounts from Mexico, via Valparaiso, May 2nth, report a repulse of the French from the Puebla, with loss of 800 killed and wounded, a whole company of which were being made prisoners Gen O'Horan, at the h ad of 1500 horse, charge I through the French centre, succeeding in establishing communications between Ortega and Comonfort. The fresh army 10,000 French troops from Vera Cruz

The 'Ferro-Carril' complains that two Chilians have been unjustly put to death by the Alcalde Ibacon—they had been found in the Plaza, another on the field of battle.

THE AMERICAN WAR.

THE FEDERALS VICTORIOUS.

The news from the States is to the 9th of May.

The Northerners have occupied Grand Gulf, between Vicksburg and Port Hudson on the Mississippi. Banks has made a glorious campaign, he destroyed all the collieries of Confederates, took all the munitions of war, and over 300 prisoners.

General Lee attacked with all his forces at Charleville the right wing of the Federal army of the Rappahannock, but was signally defeated.

The Federal General Hooker, who commanded the Northern force, behaved with the greatest bravery. In consequence of the rain the battle was not carried on the following day. General Raw-on, it is said, is dead. The Northerners, it is said, have made the most wholesale captures of prisoners—some say they amount to over 15,000. Stonewall Jackson and Hill have been severely wounded. The Washington Government had prohibited the transmission of messages by telegraph respecting military matters. At Fredericksburg there has been a most bloody battle. The Southerners attacked the Northerners and were repulsed with great slaughter.

General Banks, on the Mississippi was carrying everything before him. It was stated that he had cut off the Southerners from Texas.

Vicksburg. it is rumoured, has also been captured General Grant has united in the immediate vicinity a large body of troops. Sherman had also appeared with his army, and we do here seem to exist as to the fate of Vicksburg. The Federal forces are again in march on Richmond. All communication between Vicksburg and Richmond, has been cut off by the Northerners. Mr Chase, the Secretary of the Treasury, stated in Boston at a meeting that the end of the war was approaching. It was rumored that Hooker had resigned, and that Meade had been appointed successor to him. The down seats have demanded that M'Clellan be appointed commander-in-chief. The Northerners have taken all the railroads leading to Richmond; they have also taken Suplh Springs, and the Federal Capital is another presentation, the object of which is to create another levy by conscription.

Exchange on England, 167: gold, 92 1/4 1/2.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BATTLE.

At six o'clock on Saturday evening May 2, General Stonewall Jackson, with his whole force of 40,000 men threw himself impetuously on the extreme right of the Federals, formed by Major General Howard's corps. That corps consisted chiefly of German troops Without waiting for a single volley from the Confed rates, this corps abandoned their position behind their breastworks and fled, panic stricken towards head quarters. To retrieve the day General Hooker sent his own old army corps, then commanded by General Berry. This corps succeeded in checking the advance of the Confederate victors on assailants, and drove them back in the intrenched position lately vacated by the German troops. The Federals of Gen eal Berry, and a fresh division of reserve regiments, had to bear the fierce A. P. Hill in the engagement with General Berry's corps.

In conjunction with a fresh force General Jackson continued his attack. He commenced the onslaught at 5.30 a.m. and the battle raged until 11.40. At the end of that time the Confederate had gained about a mile and a half of ground, and had driven General Howard from Chancellorville, which they occupied. The following is the correspondent of a New York newspaper writes of this day's fight in front of Chancellorville as follows:

The engagement had lasted six hours, but had been the most terrific of the war. Our artillery had literally slaughtered the enemy, for many of the regiments had lost nearly two thirds in themselves, but the guns were all saved The enemy has gained some ground, it is true, but at the sacrifice of the flower of his force. One of his seven divisions having been cut to pieces in the effort, and over 20 0 of them having fallen in front of Sickles.

ARGENTINE FLUCTUATIONS.

President Mitre's official organ follows the blade, without much hesitation in regard whether the ear be pointed or pendulous. We must confess Nation Argentina makes its first appearance in public life with all the demure modesty of a virgin priming, fixing golden opinions for its moderation and probity. Pity it is we have also witnessed its perversion, namely, a passion for immortality in advocating an absurd invasion, and laying aside the robe of decency to rake it in the mire principally.

Who does not remember its pitiful tracings, until the end of last year, when long-me ditated plot of revolution, after being duly hatched in Buenos Ayres, it infariously carried out in a friendly state, and immediately applied to by all native papers?

Who can forget the vigorous denunciation of Sandes for the occasion of (?) of a poor Indian named Tuera? The official organ declared he could put an end to case which it considered as suspicious or dangerous as to cut a throat on the instant on such low scoundrels. Yet Sandes has now no greater sycophant, no more enthusiastic admirer, than the very paper which announced him to a trial that was thought either dangerous or inconvenient, since it never took place.

Who will disown the honest and manly expressions of contempt and references to the subdued enemy or reconciled brother, in the magnanimous polity of his out? Alas! so long as the Indian bullet, that proposes (see Sunday's No) to take the Cacheo alive and exhibit him in a cage. He winks at the terrible accusations of the "ferro carril," respecting atrocities laid to the charge of our troops.

To show the unhappy fluctuations, we have but to ask our readers to take up a copy of the President's organ of six months ago and compare it with to-day's. "Look on this picture, and on that."

Bargorrin, with 600 men, was also in march. Commander Obligongo and Villar, marched with 400 men from Villa Nueva and Fraylo Muerto

General Mitre was expected on the 27th inst, at the Guardia de la Esquina, with 800 men. It is stated that Paunero has displayed the most scientific military tactics, and hemmed in the Chacho completely

FREIGHTS

The English brig Marcellus, to load in Uruguay, hides and tallow for England, 35 sh. and 5 1/2

The Brewer barque Lessing, has been placed on the berth for Antwerp

The Pavon arrived this morning, bringing down 1,791 Bolivians, 65 ounces, and 9117,177 mje. Her news is very unsatisfactory; and we have been informed by some of the provincial members of Congress, that until Saturday we can have nothing decisive. We refer our readers to the news in another column

The European market news, per Saintonge, is not unfavorable. Dry rana called latter and tallow are selling at last quotations. Woods are very quiet, but firm in England. The demand for cattle hides is brisk, but on the Continent fine woods are neglected. Jerked beef has gone up in Havanna to 11 rls per ar

The meeting of the members of the Union will be held to-morrow (Thursday). We trust it will be well attended

In Uhlan go to-day there was very little business done, owing to merchants waiting for their advices. The Postmaster, however, has taken our time at last, and at one o'clock to-day the letters were delivered. The sudden fall in ounces seems to have caused surprises to parties not posted up on Rates matters, but as Rio passes there without our knowing it, we think it right to tell our readers that on Saturday last the great quantity of Bolivian or light ounces was the subject of much complaint. It is said that a certain Montevideo Bank is selling, or purchasing here, but as all these ounces will some time or other have to be repaid, and not in paper, nor in foreign coin, but in gold ounce of sufficient weight, it is rather a dangerous game, and instead of lulping us out of the difficulty arising from the great depreciation of paper, will ultimately drive ounces higher and higher.

The only practical scheme, which is that of Romero, to sell the public lands, is now almost forgotten, and a pernicious plan of lending, borrowing, exchanging and what not regarded as the most convenient means to bring ounces down. If the Government is sincere in its desire to fix the value of the currency, then let it sell its public lands at public auction;

The French packet is posted to sail on the 6th instant (Monday) next This is because she has to lie up in Rio for repairs.

It is rumoured that the English packet will bring us a quantity of sovereigns, but we cannot guarantee the report.

From Montevideo there is nothing particular. The desertion of Flores troops is a fact.

The Emeralda, from the Uruguay, will be due to morrow (Thursday) morning.

The "Money Market Review" gives the following quotations—

B. A. G. South lim. 3 1/2 per c. dis
Northern R. R. B. A. 2 1/2 prem
B. Ayres 6 per c. bonds 96
do 3 per c. 40
The Bank of England had raised its rate of interest to 4 per cent.
